To continue your publishing journey, you will need to select the right route to publication for you and your work in Emerald Submit, a platform for managing your submissions. All Emerald publications offer open access to give you flexible options and meet your needs if you are mandated to publish openly.

Select Publication Route

Emerald Submit uses the same login details as Emerald Insight, where your work will be published. Please log in using your Emerald Insight credentials. If you don't have an Emerald Insight profile, you can set one up here. Please use the same email address as the one you have used to submit your work.

Once you have selected your publication route, you will be presented with the relevant licence for you to review and sign.

Thank you for publishing your research with Emerald.

The Emerald Team
